

Editorial Note

This is the fourth Nordic Wittgenstein Review Special Issue. It is edited by Salla Salskov Aldrin and Hugo Strandberg and dedicated to Moral Understanding.

The impulse for this issue goes back to a conference in honour of Lars Hertzberg's 80th birthday in 2023, organized by the issue's guest editors. The theme of the issue, moral understanding, is a notion centrally connected to moral philosophy in a certain Wittgensteinian tradition, and especially to Hertzberg's work.

As Lars is a former editor of the NWR and has, even after his retirement, been an untiring source of support for the journal – for instance as a member of its editorial board and as a dependable reviewer – this special issue is a fitting way to draw attention to his work in philosophy and to highlight his importance for Wittgensteinian philosophy, especially in the Nordic countries. I would like, on behalf of the journal, to offer him my heartfelt, though belated, congratulations.

On NWR Special Issues

The three earlier NWR Special Issues are:

- “Wittgenstein and Forms of Life”, edited by Danièle Moyal-Sharrock and Piergiorgio Donatelli, published in November 2015.
- “Post-Truth”, edited by Rupert Read and Timur Uçan, published in July 2019.
- “Wittgenstein and Feminism”, edited by Sandra Laugier, Mickaëlle Prevost, and Jasmin Trächtler, published in December 2022.

NWR welcomes proposals for further guest edited special issues, which present an opportunity to explore a topic from diverse perspectives in one issue of the journal. There is no fixed deadline for submission of proposals, but Special Issues occur at most once every 1–2 years. Scholars interested in guest editing an issue are welcome to contact the editor-in-chief for details. Decisions about publication are made by the editorial board.
